Agenda themes

Day 1

Transnational education: Building bridges across countries and campuses

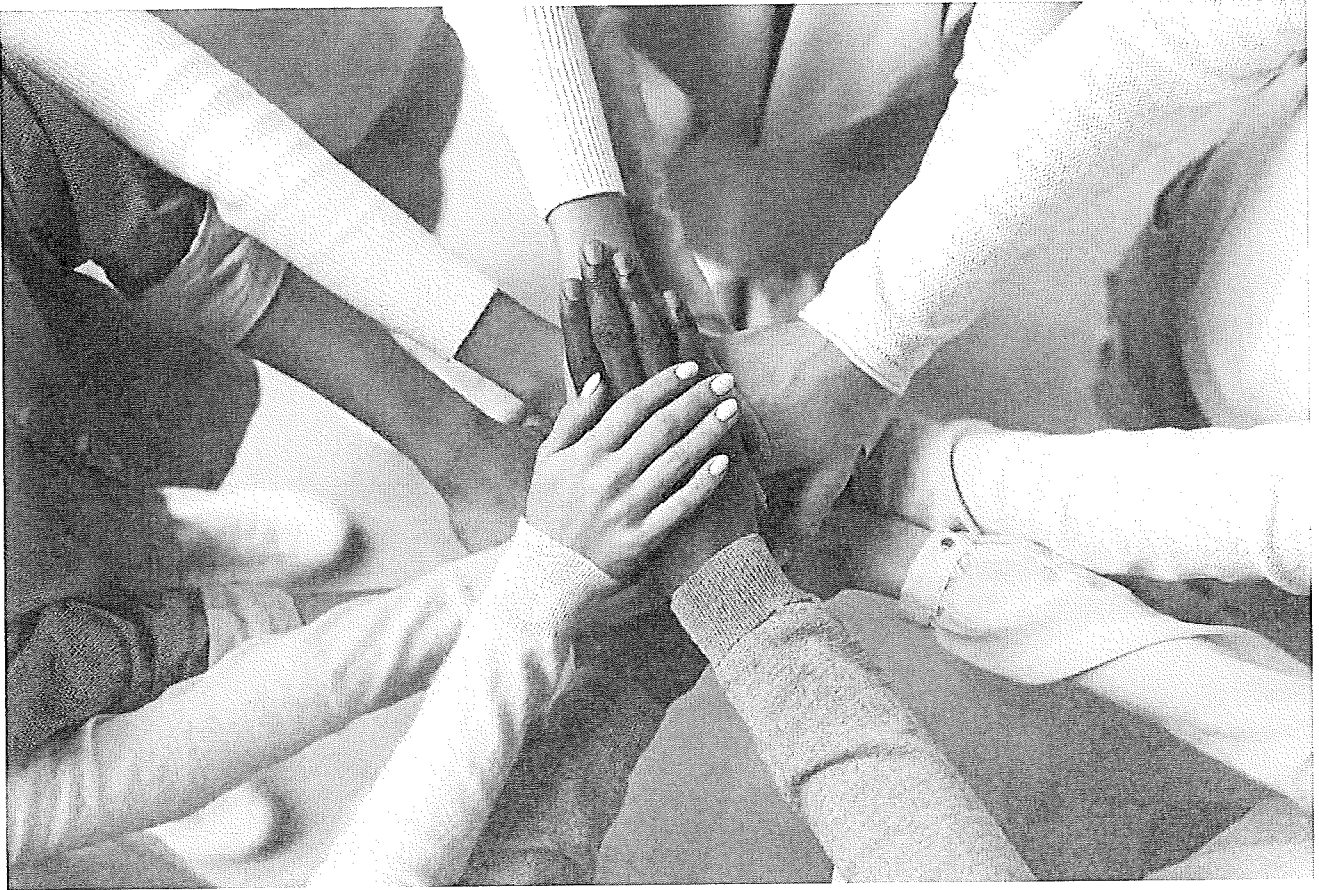

By strategically setting up campuses in different Asian countries, universities aim to cater for the growing demand for quality education, attract international students and facilitate the exchange of knowledge and ideas. This expansion enhances the reputation and influence of these institutions and contributes to the development of educational hubs that promote regional collaboration and economic growth.

Day 2

Employability and skills gap: Building bridges with industry

The disparity between what graduates bring to the table and what industries demand is a challenge that cannot be ignored. To equip the next generation of graduates with relevant skills and knowledge, these sessions will explore strategies that build bridges between academia and industry, narrow the skills gap, increase employability and reduce unemployment rates across the region, and empower graduates to become “job creators” rather than “job seekers”.

Day 3

Communities and authorities: Building bridges with society

It has become imperative for institutions to forge strong connections with society, local communities and governmental bodies. These sessions will emphasise the need for strategic engagement and delve into the challenges and opportunities facing universities in Asia. We will explore the delicate balance between governance and autonomy, the significance of academic freedom, the role of universities as catalysts for social change and the creation of a value-centric campus culture.

Highlights from the 2023 summit

The 2023 summit brought together 500+ delegates to discuss what it will mean to be an Asia university in 2050 and whether there is such a thing as an “Asian” university in such an economically, culturally and socially diverse region.

Book tickets
