Applicants should submit both the referee's recommendation form and the translation document.

FAQ Regarding the IATSS Forum

<Eligibility for Participation in the IATSS Forum>

- Q1: What are the requirements to participate in the IATSS Forum?
- A1: As for the age requirement, anyone who is 35 years old or younger at the closing date of the application can apply for the program, as long as s/he meets the eligibility criteria for the IATSS Forum.

Please refer to "4. Eligibility" (page1) on the application booklet for more details about qualifications.

- Q.2-1: I am a student. Am I eligible to apply for the IATSS Forum?
- A.2-1: No. If you are a student, and not working full time, you are not qualified to apply for the IATSS Forum. Please apply for it after you have gained 2 years of professional experience.
- Q.2-2: I am a student but I have 2 years of professional experience and I am not working now. Am I eligible to apply for the IATSS Forum?
- A.2-2: No, applicants must currently be a full-time employee working in a professional field. (Selfemployed and freelance included)
- Q.2-3: I am currently working but I go to school part-time. Am I eligible to apply for the IATSS Forum?
- A.2-3: Yes. As long as you are a full-time employee working in a professional field, you are eligible to apply for the program.

<Selection Process>

- Q3: From what point of view does the IATSS Forum do the screenings?
- A3: In the interview, the IATSS Forum appreciates applicants' ability to express their opinions clearly. Also, we focus on whether the applicants are open-minded towards other points of view and able to contribute on both an individual and a group level. From this point of view, we try to select people from a variety of backgrounds and fields to avoid homogeneous groups.
- Q4: I am Malaysian, and living in Singapore at the moment. Which country committee should I apply to, Malaysia or Singapore?
- A4: Please apply to the Malaysian Country Committee. If you have passed the document screening, you will have a final interview in Malaysia as well. This is because participants will be selected as representatives of their nations.

<Programs>

- Q5: As the IATSS Forum is organized by IATSS (International Association of Traffic and Safety Sciences), do the contents of the program only focus exclusively on traffic related issues or any specific field?
- A5: No. The overarching theme of today's IATSS Forum is "Sustainable Development." The program for the IATSS Forum has been developed with this theme in mind. The program includes learning about the topic of mobility and traffic, but it encompasses more than just that. We aim to provide participants with numerous opportunities to expand their knowledge across various fields and enable them to address a range of sustainability issues, thereby enhancing their understanding of sustainability.

- Q6: I have heard that the IATSS Forum provides a leadership training program for promising young people from Asian countries. Could you please tell me a little more about this program?
- A6: The IATSS Forum fosters the development of participants leadership skills which can "produce new value from diversity." The IATSS Forum considers a "leader" to be "a person who, in striving towards a goal, is capable of bringing out the strengths of a group to their fullest." Therefore, "leadership" is "the ability to maximize a group's potential by effectively applying its strengths to their utmost, leading to the attainment of a goal."
- Q7: What is your teaching methodology as regards the Leadership Program?
- A7: We believe in learning through experience and as such we provide participants with opportunities to obtain leadership skills naturally, on their own. We do this through a variety of programs such as "Group Study," "Seminars," "Field Study" and "International Exchange Activities." The role of the IATSS Forum is to empower young professionals from Asian countries to cultivate leadership knowhow, by giving them a place to practice it. Our motto, "Thinking and Learning Together," has served as the core concept of the Forum since its foundation. It is our hope that participants will be able to actualize this motto through engaging in these programs where they will have the opportunity to act, take in new information engaging in these programs where they will have the opportunity to act, take in new information and learn on their own. We believe they will be able to make many new discoveries through their experiences and observations and, in the end, come to a mutual understanding on matters through discussions with other future Asian leaders.

- Q8: I have heard that, at the IATSS Forum, there are no tests to complete the program, nor a declaration of ranking regarding the participants' performances. Why is that? In that case, will no one be evaluating or giving advice for improvement? Will the performance of the participants not be reported to their supervisors?
- A8: The IATSS Forum does not evaluate participants or rank them. Because the purpose of the IATSS Forum is not to obtain knowledge or information, we do not have tests to check how much knowledge or information the participants have acquired. The IATSS Forum is a place where participants cooperate with each other. Moreover, the IATSS Forum does not report anything to the participants' supervisors.

Participants can evaluate themselves on how deeply and broadly they have thought through a lot of discussion in seminars or Group Study. During the IATSS Forum program, the participants will have a lot of opportunities to think and discuss issues in meeting their Asian neighbors and Japanese people, touching on Japan's current situation, and tackling various Asian issues from a global perspective. The objective of the IATSS Forum is to deepen participants' understanding by thinking and discussing things together on the basis of knowledge or information.

<Others>

- Q9: After completing the IATSS Forum program, I would like to visit some places before leaving Japan; may I have permission to do so?
- Q10: On the way back home from Japan, may I drop by some other countries? Of course, I do not mind paying the necessary expenses.
- A9&10: No. Participants must return to their home country by the designated date, on the designated airline. Your training visa permits you to stay in Japan only during the program period. In addition, your primary purpose should be to participate in the program, and after that to be reinstated to your current job, to put what you have gained at the IATSS Forum into practical use. From this point of view, the IATSS Forum requests that you return straight home right after the program.

- Q11: Who bears the expenses related to the IATSS Forum program?
- A11: The IATSS Forum pays for the round trip airfare, participation fees for the program, accommodations, and almost all food expenses, etc. Participants need to pay for their personal expenses and part of their food expenses. More detailed information regarding the burden of expense is written in the "Letter of Agreement" which will be given to successful candidates after the final interview.
- Q12: After completion of the IATSS Forum program, will participants be involved in any particular activity?
- A12: After completion of the IATSS Forum program, participants will join the IATSS Forum alumni association in their home country. These organizations offer a place to continue sharing a wealth of experience through networks of alumni that span a broad range of ages and occupational fields. Active alumni associations in each country provide opportunities for alumnus to get together and exchange the latest information from various fields. Alumni activities also include informational sessions for prospective applicants and NGO-type community services, such as English lessons or traffic safety education for disadvantaged children.
- Q13: I am a CEO, so I would need to work during the program if I was selected. How many hours per day do I have free time or when does the daily program finish every day?
- A13: You should not expect to have free time every day during the program. You are expected to attend some evening programs, have practice or collaboration work on most of the evenings during the program. You will be expected to build bonds and trust with other participants during your free time, as a result we require participants to involve themselves fully in the forum's program and not busy themselves with outside work.
- ★On this sheet, only frequently asked questions are written. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact your country committee secretary at any time.

What is the IATSS Forum's ideal leadership?

The IATSS Forum fosters "co-creative" leadership throughout the 8-week program* that maximizes the strengths of team members and leads them toward a common goal in a diverse environment with members from different specialties and cultural backgrounds. *The length of the program is subject to change.

What makes our program unique?

The program is designed to give participants the opportunity to :

- Learn in a creative and proactive way through our unique blend of research, discussions, group study, and reflection.
- Learn to think multilaterally and flexibly by experiencing opposing points of view from different fields and stances through lectures, field study, presentations, and discussions.
- Reflect on how to address issues in your own country by looking at current and relevant topics and by exploring example cases from Japan, Asia and the broader world.
- Participate in field study based practical training that allows you to experience with all five senses in order to gain deeper insights.
- Experience the leadership philosophies, visions, and actions of a wide variety of professionals from different fields, and gain insights into the cultivation of leadership.
- Expand your awareness of your own growth by exposing yourself to a diverse group of young professionals from a wide variety of countries, fields, and expertise.
- Cultivate leadership by repeating the process of understanding your own leadership style, setting your own goals, practicing in a diverse environment, and reflecting on yourself and others.
- Acquire communication skills through conveying opinions and ideas to a diverse group of people by verbalizing in discussions, giving presentations and writing reports.

What are the leadership capacities you will acquire?

The foundation of leadership and organizational management	A basic understanding of leadership and management, and the fundamental knowledge to demonstrate effective leadership in different situations
Insight based on an interdisciplinary approach	A broad perspective to connect various issues, and the insight to explore and pursue issues in a multifaceted manner across fields
The ability to generate creative ideas	A strong will to contribute to the sustainable and peaceful development of human society in a responsible way, and the ability to devise ideas to achieve those goals
Interpersonal and communication skills	The mindset, attitude and human skills necessary for a "co-creative leader" who maximizes personal capabilities and the potential of teams and leads to achieve a common goal based on consensus building through dialogue
Influential power and ability to execute an idea	The ability to transcend differences in specialties, organizations, and positions, and in collaborative and co-creative relationships with diverse others, to display clear principles and visions, and to act for the realization of change for the better

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

LATSS FORU/

The IATSS Forum is an international training institute established in 1985, inviting young professionals from 10 Asian countries to Japan. We provide opportunities for participants to understand one another's countries through seminars, field studies, group study, and cultural exchanges, as well as to make efforts to solve current issues in Asia, under the motto "Thinking and Learning Together".

The program contents and topics covered in the IATSS Forum program are modified suitably in accordance with the current situations and demands of the participating countries. We invite top-class lecturers from a wide range of academia, industries, fields, and sectors, and aim to nurture participants' leadership capacity through a liberal arts-based program.

How did the IATSS Forum begin?

In 1983, Mr. Soichiro Honda met the prime minister of Malaysia, Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, at an international symposium. He had a deep sense of empathy with Tun Dr. Mahathir's idea that the nurturing of human potential would be significant for the future development of ASEAN countries. Mr. Honda and his business partner, Mr. Fujisawa, decided to establish the IATSS Forum as an international training institute with their private funds, and the first forum was held in September 1985.

In 2015, as a result of continuous activities over the years, the IATSS Forum received the Foreign Minister's Commendation for its contribution to the promotion of mutual understanding among Asian countries.

What kind of programs does the IATSS Forum provide?

In a diverse environment with participants of different nations and specialties, we provide the following training programs focusing on the theme of Sustainable Development :

1) Seminars to broaden perspectives of environmental issues, politics, economics, education, culture, etc.

2) Field studies to gain insights through viewing actual cases of sustainable development in Japan.

3) Group study/research in which each group discusses the selected issue and proposes feasible solutions by utilizing all the learning points gained from the program contents.

Our program also includes other activities such as team-building training sessions to foster teamwork with fellow participants and cultural exchange events with local volunteers.

What's next for the participants?

In the final stage of the program, participants conceptualize the points what they have learned from the program in order to conduct research and discuss feasible solutions to issues in their own countries, then present the results of their studies. However, the presentation is not the end of the program. After returning home, participants are expected to execute ideas and continue their activities to solve the issues in collaboration with the organizations, communities, and alumni associations to which they belong.

Overall Flow

Training in Japan

Team building creates the foundation of the mutual learning environment. It deepens understanding, builds trust, and encourages self-exploration and development among participants.

Seminar

Seminars are designed to be multi-faceted, consisting of lectures, presentations on challenges faced by individual countries, and group discussions. They aim to demonstrate conflicting points of view relating to the differences of stances and fields, and to develop the ability to examine the issues from various perspectives beyond each participant's own field of expertise.

Prior Assignments

Participants are required to submit an assignment prior to the program in Japan. They will conduct research and make a presentation on the given topic including the current situation in their countries, the major challenges, and their countermeasures.

he Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnan

After arrival, under the theme of sustainable development, participants will acquire knowledge from various perspectives, gain insights, and cultivate leadership capacity in a diversified environment.

Field Study

Through site visits, participants observe examples of actual cases in Japan, such as natural disasters, pollution, and social issues. They are exposed to the actions, ideas, spirit and attitude of leaders/stakeholders who have tackled those cases by creating innovative solutions which twist the challenging situations into opportunities to grow and develop. Through this, participants acquire ideas for the sustainable development of their own countries and region.

Group Study

Participants proceed with group study/research utilizing all the learning elements gained from seminars and field studies in the program. Each diverse group discusses solutions to the priority issues in members' countries. Participants learn the entire process from generating ideas beyond their expertise to making a tangible proposal to realize a sustainable society.

In the process of group study, each member is responsible for developing their team as a leader and a follower. This enhances their own leadership capacities by repeating the cycle of setting goals, exercising them, and reflecting on this, as well as allowing for the perspectives of others.
