What is Euroweek?

EUROWEEK is an educational program/ seminar for students of all age and adult learner. It focuses in enhancing the English language and leadership skills of its participants. Furthermore, we are also developing the key areas of multiple intelligence that the students needed in this past-changing environment; cross-cultural, social and communication, intellectual and creativity skills.

The program schedule varies on the request of the school or group participants; we have five (5) days, seven (7), ten (10) or even more activity days. Euroweek is a non- formal education with the twist of cultural education that is happening in Miedzygorze, Rozanka, Długopole Zdroj, and Długopole Dolne.

The world is a global village today, it is therefore important for the students to be more equipped on different cross-cultural issues of the world. Euroweek brings international volunteers who can help the students broaden their perspective about cultural differences and harness their skills for international collaboration. To make this happen, volunteers provide them with information about their history, economy, tourism, culture, people, and traditions in the most interactive and personal ways that the students can remember and understand it easily.

To improve the social and communication skills of the students, Euroweek provides an open space to develop their self-confidence by using different team building games, and workshops such as language, listening, role playing, presentation techniques, motivational talks and group discussion with the volunteers.

Furthermore, to enhance the intellectual and creativity skills of the students, the program also provides them with different workshops and activities such as problem solving, leadership, creativity, project management, debates, refugee workshops, stereotyping, comparing topics and others. After these activities the students are expected to be more critical and open- minded in analyzing information.

To date Euroweek has different programs for each specific groups; Euroweek for Primary, Junior High School, High School, University students and Global Village for Adults who want to improve their English Language skills, socio- cultural skills, learn languages such as, Spanish, French, Italian, Russian, Chinese, Suwahili, Asian Languages and other dialects of the volunteers, and also learn cultures from the seven continent of the world.

In every Euroweek we always want to develop our program and activities, our motto is" Every Euroweek Experience is fun and different" and you will surely come back for more.

History

Home / History

EUROWEEK was founded in 1994 by a group of students in Kłodzko Poland who were interested in European integration, democracy, socio-cultural activities and community development through youth participation.

European Integration Youth and Region was the first name of the organization and was first launch in Międzygórze, Poland. It was organized mainly to integrate and inform the Polish students on local and international issues through different conferences and seminars conducted by the Polish government officials, embassy consuls, and other organizations around the area. It was then that in 1998 the program was fully integrated as one of the Erasmus Project.

As the Euroweek Project grew bigger, better and more integrated, several changes were made to equalize the growing population of the participants. The project started to attract global attention. In this respect, it started inviting Youth Leaders (Volunteer) around the world through new partner organizations and referral systems. University student participants were also very key players since they were one of the first batches of participants to benefit from this life changing experience that is Euroweek. The program went ahead and now started to accept Primary, Jr. High School and High school students around Poland. Having only one Euroweek per month few years ago, the project has achieved tremendous growth and now it is simultaneously happening in three hotels to five hotels depending on the season of the year for normal weeks and in five hotels during peak seasons like summer.

This July 2016, Euroweek started to host and accept international participants from Republic of Turkey and continually working for more partnership in more country.

Mission Statement

Euroweek Program is an international program that aims to develop the intellectual ability, leadership, creativity, communication and social skills of our participants through different techniques such as formal, non formal and cross- cultural approach that will help and prepare them to integrate and understand the global world of today.

Goal

Our goal is to provide quality and intensive training in different areas of self development among our students.

- Develop the leadership skills
- Build Self Confidence
- Improve the English communication skills
- Integration of different cultures
- Build friendship and strong cooperation between Youth Leaders and participants

At the end of every Euroweek the students are expected to learn the following; improve their confidence in speaking English, integrate themselves in globalizing world by learning and being friends from volunteers from all over the world, cultivate their social, intellectual and creativity skills, and make the students more active in participating in issues around their community, national and international.
