Greetings!

We extend a warm invitation for the II International Conference on “Evaluating Constitutionalism and its application in Global Governance for securing Human Rights”, hosted by the JLU Centre for Constitutional Law and Human Rights at the Faculty of Law, Jagran Lakecity University, Bhopal.

Amidst the ever-evolving global landscape, our conference endeavors to foster meaningful dialogue and scholarly exchange in the vital realm of constitutional law and human rights. With the overarching theme, as reflected in the name of the Conference," our aim is to delve into the multifaceted dimensions of human rights against the backdrop of contemporary developments —both on the international and national fronts.

In today's interconnected world, where cultural, social, and economic shifts significantly influence constitutional laws and human rights, our conference serves as a pivotal platform. Through rigorous research and insightful discussions, we seek to explore the evolving trajectories of these fundamental rights. Our goal is to contribute to the ongoing discourse, aiming to safeguard and promote human rights amidst the complexities of our diverse societies.

Recognizing the need for diverse perspectives, the conference is thoughtfully designed as a hybrid event, ensuring accessibility and convenience for participants from all corners. Whether you are a student, a professional, an academician, or a dedicated researcher in law or related domains, your insights are invaluable to enriching our discourse.

Join us on this intellectual journey as we explore diverse horizons, engage in thought-provoking discussions, and endeavor to shape the legal frameworks of both the present and the future.

We look forward to welcoming esteemed academicians, legal researchers, students pursuing law degrees, and all those passionate about the sanctity of human rights.

Warm Regards,
JLU Centre for Constitutional Law and Human Rights,

CONCEPT NOTE

About the Conference

The JLU Centre for Constitutional Law and Human Rights at the Faculty of Law, Jagran Lakecity University, Bhopal, will be organising the II JLUCCCLHR International Conference, 2025 on the theme, “Evaluating Constitutionalism and Its Application in Global Governance for Securing Human Rights” in a hybrid mode, scheduled for May 1st and 2nd, 2025.

Constitutionalism serves as the foundation of democratic governance, ensuring accountability, the rule of law, and the protection of human rights. In an era of globalization, rapid technological advancements, environmental crises, and shifting geopolitical landscapes, constitutional principles must evolve to address contemporary challenges. This conference aims to critically examine the role of constitutionalism in shaping governance frameworks that secure human rights, democracy, and sustainable development worldwide.

Global governance institutions, national governments, and regional bodies grapple with issues such as electoral integrity, digital rights, environmental justice, social inclusion, and criminal justice reforms. The effectiveness of constitutional frameworks in responding to these challenges varies across jurisdictions, necessitating a comparative and interdisciplinary approach. This conference will serve as a platform for students, research scholars, policymakers, legal practitioners, civil society actors and other relevant stakeholders to explore constitutionalism’s application in addressing global and regional governance challenges.

Objective of the Conference

- 1.To develop conceptual understanding of constitutionalism
- 2.To critically examine the role of constitutionalism in shaping governance frameworks at regional and global level.
- 3.To understand the interrelationship between human rights regimes and humanitarian intervention for the maintenance of peace and security and the role of constitutionalism in securing the same.
- 4.To assess the role of constitutionalism in ever advancing legal, digital, and technological landscape
- 5.To perceive the significance of fundamental rights and the role of the judiciary in safeguarding them at regional and global level.

Target Audience

The target audience for this conference includes:

- Student and research scholars from law and related disciplines
- Advocates and judges
- Government officials and policy makers
- Representatives from NGOs
- Academicians and other professionals from relevant fields

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Conference invites research papers that delve into various facets of the overarching theme, 'Evaluating Constitutionalism and its application in Global Governance for securing Human Rights.' Participants are encouraged to explore topics aligned with this central theme, and while not limited to these areas, the sub-themes serve as guiding areas of focus.

These sub-themes encompass diverse dimensions within the broader context of human rights in an evolving society.

1. Constitutionalism and SDGs
2. Constitutionalism and Fundamental Rights
3. Comparative Constitutionalism on Criminal Justice System
4. Constitutionalism and Social Justice
5. Constitutionalism and Artificial Intelligence and Technology Law
